Who Are We

A SOLID REPUTATION

Known since 1980 for its European concept of matching ceiling fans and lighting with home décor trends, Nadair North America is headquartered in Laval, Canada. Strategic for both air and ground transportation, this location also gives the company an edge in both European and North American cultures and markets. Our exclusive partner in France helps us stay a step ahead of new trends—a key piece in our enviable reputation as manufacturers of innovative electrical products.

A SUCCESSFUL VENTURE

As a vertically integrated company, at Nadair, we control every aspect of our production: from the initial design to quality control, marketing and distribution. Thanks to this structure, our company offers products tailored to our customers' needs. Uncontended quality, inviting design and enticing prices are among the reasons we are leaders in our industry.
